

Longer term projection (no action taken)

If transmission continued at present rate, daily cases would dwarf the previous record of April 2021. Infection rates eventually decline due to the herd effect.

In this scenario, hospital and ICU demands would exceed available capacity (including surge beds).